The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted materials. The Privacy Act of 1974 (5 United States Code 552a) governs the use of materials that document private individuals, groups and corporations.

Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a reproduction if the document does not infringe the privacy rights of an individual, group or corporation. These specified conditions of authorized use include:

- non-commercial and non-profit study, scholarship, research or teaching
- criticism or commentary
- as a NPS preservation or security copy for research use
- as a research copy for deposit in another institution

If the researcher later uses a copy or reproduction for purposes in excess of “fair use,” the researcher is personally liable for copyright, privacy, or publicity infringement and agrees to indemnify the NPS from any legal action as a result of the error. Permission to obtain a photographic, xerographic, digital or other copy of a document doesn’t indicate permission to publish, exhibit, perform, reproduce, sell, distribute or prepare derivative works from the document without permission from the copyright holder and from any private individual, group or corporation shown or otherwise recorded.

Permission to publish, exhibit, perform, reproduce, prepare derivative works from, sell or otherwise distribute the item must be obtained separately in writing from the holder of the original copyright (or if the creator is dead from his/her heirs) as well as from any individual(s), groups or corporations whose name, image, recorded words or private information (e.g. employment information) may be reproduced in the source material. The holder of the original copyright isn’t necessarily the National Park Service. The National Park Service is not legally liable for copyright, privacy or publicity infringement when materials are wrongfully used after being provided to researchers for “fair use.”

This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if fulfillment of the order is judged in violation of copyright or federal or state privacy or publicity law. This institution also places restrictions on the use of cameras, photocopiers and scanners in the research room.

INTRODUCTION

The Maggie Lena Walker Family Papers is an archival collection that was found at the Walker family home, 110 ½ East Leigh Street, Richmond, Virginia. The home was purchased by the National Park Service in 1979 and is now the Maggie Lena Walker National Historic Site (MAWA). These papers, along with the records of the Independent Order of Saint Luke, Right Worthy Grand Council of Virginia, the organization which Walker led, form the core of the Site's historic archives.

In late spring of 1998, Jennifer Quinn, a Museum Technician for the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities working through a cooperative agreement with the Northeast Museum Services Center (NMSC), processed the bulk (20.5 linear feet) of the family papers. The papers were organized according to family members with further subdivisions such as diaries and correspondence. The collection was then rehoused in acid-free folders and archives boxes with metal fasteners were removed. Particularly acidic materials were separated from other materials in a folder with acid-free paper, and oversize items were flattened and removed to oversize archival boxes with separation sheets indicating the original location.

Staff members at the Site subsequently identified approximately three linear feet of Maggie Walker Family papers not processed in the original project. In addition, staff had identified the subjects of the over five hundred unprocessed photographs. In late 2015 and early 2016, NMSC Archivist Margaret Welch cataloged the remaining papers and updated the corresponding catalog records in the National Park Service's collection management system to include the photographs and other new items. MAWA Curator Ethan Bullard contributed the text for the updated biographical information and photographic descriptions.

This finding aid updates the original and retains the three parts and one appendix as follows:

- Part 1: Collection Description:
  - a scope and content note (or brief synopsis of the collection),
  - an outline showing the organization of the collection, and
  - descriptions of the various subcollections and series into which the collection is organized.
- Part 2: Biographical Notes:
  - brief biographical summaries for each of the members of the Walker family members represented in the collection.
- Part 3: Collection Listing:
  - a box, folder, and item listing of the collection and of the items removed from the collection due to size. Items are listed with their archival inventory numbers as assigned by park staff. “---” in place of an archives inventory number indicates that the item was not given an archives number.
- Appendix A: Index by Archival Number:
  - An index of each item included in this collection according to the park's initial archival item numbering system. Includes a short description of each item, the subcollection it is arranged under, and the box and folder number where it can be found. Unnumbered items are at the end.

- Appendix B: Photographs Subcollection.
  - List of the individual photographs including location, title, creator, date, individual MAWA catalog number if given, and archival control number.

Below is a brief description of each subcollection within the Maggie Lena Walker Family Papers. A general description of each series within the subcollections follows on page 16.

I. Maggie Lena Walker Papers, 1897-1935

Maggie Lena Walker's papers include the following series: Personal Materials, Legal and Financial Records, Correspondence, Public Addresses, Organizations, and Collected Materials. While her papers do illustrate her extraordinary life to some extent, researchers will immediately find that Maggie Lena was not a writer. She did not record her life either in diaries or extensive correspondence, as can be seen by the small amount of materials found in Maggie Lena's Personal and Correspondence series. The most comprehensive record of Maggie Lena's activities, specifically in her adult life, is found in her Legal and Financial Records, which contain a surprising amount of bills and receipts, estimates, inventories, bank records, real estate records, stock records, tax returns and receipts, and insurance records. Maggie Lena's papers also demonstrate her interest and activities in social issues and organizations, as they include many booklets, pamphlets, and certificates that she kept over the years.

II. Elizabeth Mitchell Papers, undated

No substantial papers of Elizabeth Mitchell were found with this collection. Her "papers" are arranged into one series, Collected Materials, and they include only two gift tags.

III. Armstead Walker, Jr. Papers, 1903-1915

Only five items were preserved of Armstead Walker, Jr.'s papers. They are arranged into two series: Financial Records and Organizations, and they include a few receipts and certificates.

IV. Russell E.T. Walker Papers, 1901-1920

A small amount of material remains of Russell E.T. Walker's papers. They are arranged into the following three series: Personal Materials, Financial Records, and Collected Materials. The Personal Materials include Russell's marriage certificate as well as several accounting lessons that he completed at an unknown school. The Financial Records are comprised of several receipts, including some receipts for a life insurance policy premium. Lastly, the Collected Materials includes only a graduation program from Richmond High and Normal School.

V. Hattie N.F. Walker Papers, 1905-1966

A more significant amount of Hattie N.F. Walker's papers were preserved. They are arranged into five series: Personal Materials, Financial Records, Correspondence, Organizations, and Collected Materials. As with Maggie Lena, however, Hattie did not write down the details of her life. None of the series within Hattie's papers are particularly complete, but they do provide limited information about a bookkeeping class at Columbia University, some financial and social activities, as well as certain topics that apparently interested her.

VI. Melvin D. Walker Papers, 1906-1935

The handful of documents that remain of Melvin D. Walker are arranged into four series: Personal Materials, Financial Records, Correspondence, and Collected Materials. Few in number, these records provide limited information about Melvin's education at LaSalle Extension University, tax and insurance data, along with some correspondence.

VII. Ethel R. Walker Papers, 1926-1935

Ethel R. Walker's papers consist of only four items, and they are arranged in Personal Materials and Financial Records. The Personal Materials consist of several certificates Ethel received from the Baker-Armstrong Night School, and the Financial Records include a poll tax receipt from the city of Richmond.

VIII. Maggie Laura Walker Papers, 1915-1950

A great majority of the Maggie Lena Walker Family Papers is made up of Maggie Laura Walker's papers, particularly those from her childhood and early adulthood. They are arranged into the following five series: Personal Materials, Correspondence, Public Addresses, Organizations, and Collected Materials. The most significant portion of Maggie Laura's papers are her educational records, which are arranged by institution within the Personal Materials series. Much of Maggie Laura's certificates, grade records, and assignments have been preserved, including records from Hartshorn Memorial College, the Monroe School, Armstrong Normal School, Booker Washington School, Armstrong High School, Virginia Union University, and the University of Michigan Medical School. The Organizations series also contains records from Maggie Laura's time at Virginia Union University. The remainder of Maggie Laura's papers includes various correspondence and collected materials that help to illustrate Maggie Laura's social life.

IX. Armstead Walker Papers, 1931

Only one musical composition book of Armstead Walker's remains in this collection, and it is placed in a Personal Materials series.

X. Mamie E. Walker Papers, 1931-1939

Three items belonging to Mamie E. Walker are included in this collection, and they are arranged in two series: Personal Materials and Correspondence. Two of the items are education records, and the third is a letter written to Mamie.

XI. Polly Payne Papers, 1919-1953

Polly Payne's personal papers are arranged into the following four series: Personal Materials, Correspondence, Organizations, and Collected Materials. Each series includes only a few items.

XII. Independent Order of Saint Luke Records, 1877-1970

The Independent Order of Saint Luke (IOSL) was an integral part of the lives of the Walker family, Maggie Lena and Hattie in particular. The extent to which the IOSL played a part in their home life is demonstrated by the amount of IOSL records that were found in the Walker home. In general, the records were not found in any particular order, so the records were arranged in the 1998-1999 cataloging project according to the structure of the IOSL into the following nine series: Right Worthy Grand Council Records, Receiving Department Records, Bookkeeping and Auditing Department Records, Membership Records, Policy Department Records, Printing Department/Publicity Records, St. Luke Health Club Records, St. Luke Penny Savings Bank Records, and Collected Materials. Researchers should note that the Independent Order of St. Luke, Right Worthy Grand Council of Virginia Records, 1897-1974 (MAWA 9388) are organized differently but hold much related material including publications.

As would be expected, many of the Independent Order of Saint Luke Records that are arranged here are incomplete series – they reflect what Maggie Lena or Hattie happened to bring home and the publications that they collected personally. Perhaps most significant, the Right Worthy Grand Council Records include the records that the Grand Council likely used in the administration of the fraternal order, and includes charters, titles, deeds, contracts, correspondence, annual and semiannual reports, and notes. The Receiving Department Records include blank stationery and registered mail receipts. The Bookkeeping and Auditing Department Records contain some financial records from the IOSL including an expense chart, bank records, monthly assessment forms, and miscellaneous forms. The Membership Records include various applications, investigating committee records, and rosters of several IOSL councils. The Policy Department Records include some establishing documents, certificates, and handouts. Publications relate to the IOSL's constitutions, ceremonies, and rituals and include programs from IOSL events, souvenir books, annual reports, journals of proceedings, brochures, and a few issues of The Saint Luke Fraternal Bulletin and the Saint Luke Fraternal Monitor.

XIII. Unassociated Materials, 1894-1970

The Unassociated Materials subcollection includes records like those described above, but for which the family connection is unclear. They are arranged into the following five series: Personal Materials, Financial Records, Correspondence, Collected Materials, and Non-Family Members. The great majority of this subcollection is made up of Collected Materials, which includes a section of clippings about Maggie Lena Walker that were printed after her death. The Non-Family Members series includes the records for which a creator was determined, but they did not fit into the Walker family's papers. This series is arranged alphabetically by name.

XIV. Sheet Music Collection, 1872-1948

There was a significant amount of sheet music found in the Walker home, apparently in no particular order. The sheet music has been arranged by title, with the unidentified pieces at the end. Notations are included in the finding aid if a piece of music is related to a particular family member, as indicated by inscriptions on the item. The subcollection is primarily comprised of popular music, and it also includes some religious and classical study pieces.

XV. Photographs

This series includes the photographic materials found in the house (both as framed wall-hangings and loose photographs including negatives). Subjects include individual and group portraits of Maggie Lena, her family members, their friends, and colleagues in photographic studios and more informal settings. In addition to the photographs found in the Walker home, this series includes photographs (both framed and unframed) that were donated to the Site after 1979. See Appendix B. for the container list of the photographs.

XVI. Items Removed from Books, 1854-1970

Archival items that were found in books in the Walker home are arranged in this subcollection by title of the book in which it was found. When possible, the finding aid includes a cross-reference from the subcollection that would have contained the item had it not been found in a book.

XVII. Oversize Storage

Items that are larger than legal size have been removed from the main collection, and are stored with this subcollection in larger flat boxes. When an item is removed, a separation sheet is left in its place to indicate the same. A citation in the finding aid also indicates if researchers should check another location for a particular item.

SERIES DESCRIPTIONS

As indicated in the subcollection descriptions, within each person's papers, the materials are grouped into as many as six series: Personal Materials, Legal and Financial Records, Correspondence, Public Addresses, Organizations, and Collected Materials. General descriptions of each of these series follow below.

Personal Materials

These materials relate to the personal life of each family member. They are arranged by type of material and may include diaries, personal notebooks, address books, education records, religious records, medical records, estate records, and any biographical notes.

Legal and/or Financial Records

These types of records include bills and receipts, estimates, inventories, bank records (including correspondence, cancelled checks, promissory notes, and other notices), real estate records, stock records, tax returns and receipts, and insurance records. The materials are arranged by type into subseries. If necessary, they are arranged by financial institution, and thereunder by type of document.

Correspondence

There is not a tremendous amount of correspondence in any of the subcollections, but within this series there can be up to three groups: Incoming, Outgoing, and Other. The quantity of correspondence does not warrant any further arrangement. Other Correspondence may include a few letters written about a particular family member, although they are not written by or to them.

Public Addresses

Copies of speeches or notes about speeches made by family members are organized into this series.

Organizations

Several family members actively participated in many community, religious, and political organizations. Records of their involvement with these organizations and the information that they gathered about these groups are included in this series. Materials include membership cards, certificates, clippings, and publicity materials including brochures and pamphlets. These papers are arranged alphabetically by organization.

Collected Materials

This series is composed of items which Walker family members collected for sentimental, historical or informational purposes. It is arranged alphabetically by type and may include the following subseries: advertisements, booklets and pamphlets, business and/or visiting cards, clippings, invitations, poetry and songs, postcards (blank), programs, scrapbooks, stationery (blank), and miscellaneous notes.

PART 2:

BIOGRAPHICAL NOTES

MAGGIE LENA WALKER (1864-1934)

Maggie Lena Walker was born on July 15, 1864 to a young, formerly enslaved African American woman named Elizabeth Draper and a white, Irish-born Confederate soldier named Eccles Cuthbert. Maggie was born on the mansion grounds of Elizabeth Van Lew, a prominent abolitionist and Civil War spy in Richmond's Church Hill neighborhood. Draper, along with her future husband, William Mitchell, both worked as paid servants for Van Lew until 1868 when they moved to College Alley, in the Capitol Hill neighborhood.

When she was young, Maggie attended the Lancasterian School (also known as the Valley School), followed by middle school at Navy Hill School, and finally at Richmond Colored Normal School. After graduating in 1883,<sup>3</sup> she returned to the Lancasterian School as a teacher for three years.

On September 1886<sup>4</sup>, Maggie Lena married Armstead Walker, Jr., a building contractor. The couple had three sons; one son died in infancy. The surviving sons were named Russell E.T. Walker and Melvin D. Walker.

The Independent Order of Saint Luke almost always played a tremendous role in Maggie Lena's life. Established in 1867 by Mary Prout, the Order was called the Grand United Order of St. Luke when Maggie joined at the age of fourteen, in 1881. An African American fraternal insurance society, the Order's mission was to assure proper health care and burial arrangements for its members, as well as to promote humanitarian causes and encourage individual self-help and integrity. Maggie occupied various leadership positions in the Order until 1899, when she was elected Right Worthy Grand Secretary (later, Right Worthy Grand Secretary-Treasurer), the position she would hold until her death.

In 1899, the IOSL endured some of its toughest times, with membership at a low point and few financial assets. Through Maggie's dedication, determination, and hard work, however, the IOSL flourished. Indeed, by 1922, the Order had a membership of 100,000, a new headquarters building in Richmond, and over 200 employees. Through Maggie's vision, the Order expanded, creating a newspaper, The Saint Luke Herald, and the Saint Luke Penny Savings Bank. The opening of the latter made Maggie the first African American female bank president in the United States.

Maggie's vision for a better world did not end with the Independent Order of Saint Luke. She was also active in several civic organizations. Among other things, she was on the Board of Directors of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, a trustee of the Frederick Douglass Home, vice president of the National Association of Colored Women's Club, and founder and president of the Council of Colored Women.

In the midst of this strenuous and successful career, hardship and tragedy entered Maggie Lena's life. In March 1908, she fell and injured her knee, an injury that continued to trouble her long after the fall, due to latent diabetes. Further tragedy struck in 1915 when her eldest son, Russell, mistook her husband for a prowler and shot him dead. In addition, she was confined to a wheelchair by 1928 due to her advanced diabetes.

While certainly these tribulations must have brought sorrow into Maggie Lena's life, she continued to labor on – happily. In 1931, she wrote:

I have indeed been happy in all these years of service; nothing encountered has lastingly impressed me as a hardship, weighed against the achievements of our splendid organization. My heart has sung out, "Inspiration," when physical strength has all but failed, but with eyes ever set to the golden horizon and the wonderful "rainbow of promise" always just ahead, I've kept happy and traveled through the years to the music of the St. Luke drum tap.<sup>5</sup>

Hard work, hope, and faith in the "rainbow of promise" are Maggie Lena's legacies. She died in December 15, 1934 due to complications of diabetes. She is buried in a family plot at Richmond's Evergreen Cemetery.

ELIZABETH DRAPER MITCHELL (C.1848-1922)

Born Elizabeth Draper, not much is known about Elizabeth's childhood. A former slave, she worked as paid assistant to the cook in the mansion of the abolitionist Elizabeth Van Lew. In 1868 she married a fellow Van Lew employee, butler, William Mitchell. Mitchell became the headwaiter at the Saint Charles Hotel in Richmond's Shockoe Bottom neighborhood, but in 1876 he was murdered, supposedly the victim of a robbery. Elizabeth supported her two children, Maggie Lena and Johnnie Mitchell, by taking in laundry from other families. She later became a well-respected midwife and would spend the rest of her life in her daughter's company, eventually dying in the Walker's Leigh Street home on February 12, 1922.

ARMSTEAD WALKER, JR. (CA. 1859-1915)

Only sketchy details of Armstead, Jr.'s life are known. He was the son of Armstead and Mary Walker of Richmond, Virginia.<sup>6</sup> He graduated from Richmond Colored Normal School in June 1875.<sup>7</sup>

Armstead Walker, Jr. was a brick contractor with his family's business when he married Maggie Lena Mitchell on September 14, 1886. He was also a member of the U.S. Letter Carrier's Mutual Benefit Association.<sup>8</sup>

Tragically, Armstead was killed on June 20, 1915 when his son, Russell, mistook him for a burglar and shot him.

RUSSELL E.T. WALKER (1890-1923)

Born December 9, 1890, Russell Eccles Talmage was the eldest son of Maggie Lena and Armstead Walker, Jr.

Russell married Hattie N. Frazier on September 26, 1912. The couple stayed at 110½ East Leigh Street with Russell's mother and his brother's family. They had one daughter, Maggie Laura Walker.

Russell received two diplomas, one from the Richmond Public Schools in 1904<sup>9</sup> and a second from the Richmond Colored Normal School in 1907.<sup>10</sup> He completed a course in higher accountancy and life insurance at the LaSalle Extension University and the University of Pennsylvania.<sup>11</sup>

Russell worked at the Independent Order of St. Luke, beginning as an apprentice, and working his way into different departments. In 1912, Russell was a clerk and teller at the St. Luke Penny Savings Bank.<sup>12</sup> Russell eventually became an Actuarial Secretary at the Order. His most important work consisted of a "comprehensive survey of the purposes, needs and possible adoptions of new insurance features" for the Order. As a result of this work, Russell spent five years compiling data on the health rates and vital statistics of various representative communities. Using the resulting data and the American Experience Table of Mortality, Russell formulated a plan of insurance based on a flat rate, depending of the age of the individual insured. This plan was later adopted by the Commissioners of the Virginia Insurance Department.<sup>13</sup>

In 1915, Russell tragically mistook his father for a prowler and shot and killed him. He never recovered from the experience, and by 1922 he had left the Walker family home and his job at the Independent Order of St. Luke for Brooklyn, New York. Apparently battling alcoholism, Russell secured a job working for a “Hungarian nerve specialist.”<sup>14</sup> At the time of his death, however, it was said that Russell was working for the Order again, preparing a map “showing graphically the locations of councils and district organizations throughout the Saint Luke jurisdictions.” He died at the age of 33, November 23rd, 1923.<sup>15</sup>

HATTIE N.F. WALKER (CA. 1890-1974)

Harriet “Hattie” Naomi Frazier Walker was the youngest daughter of Herbert and Laura Frazier of New York City. She graduated from the Washington Irving High School there. Following graduation, she worked for Mr. Philip A. Payton, a real estate dealer, as a stenographer and typewriter.<sup>16</sup>

Hattie was born in Richmond but raised in New York City, and her mother was thought to have been one of the first African Americans to settle in the neighborhood that became known as Harlem. The Frazier family was always close with the Walkers, but Hattie’s marriage to Maggie’s oldest son, Russell, on September 26, 1912 sealed their bond. Throughout her time as a resident at 110 ½ East Leigh Street, Hattie regularly visited her family in New York and even, for short time just before Russell’s death in 1923, took a job there working for the NAACP’s journal, The Crisis. Following Maggie L. Walker’s death, Hattie continued to live at 110 ½ East Leigh Street, becoming chiefly responsible for keeping the home in the Walker family. In 1937, after having worked for the Independent Order of St. Luke for many years (serving as an organist,<sup>17</sup> as a clerk in the Adult Department,<sup>18</sup> as the Acting Right Worthy Grand Secretary,<sup>19</sup> and as a member of the Board of Trustees.<sup>20</sup>), Hattie was elected to her late mother-in-law’s position as head of the organization and served in that capacity for 20 years. Upon her death, Hattie willed 110 ½ East Leigh Street to her daughter Maggie Laura. Hattie ultimately spent more years living at the home than any other member of the Walker family, all the while preserving their furnishings, decorations, and personal records. Inspired by her late mother-in-law’s efforts to preserve Frederick Douglass’ home, it was Hattie’s foresight that enabled the National Park Service to create such a comprehensive memorial to Maggie L. Walker. She died in Chicago on August 4, 1974.

MELVIN D. WALKER (1897- 1935)

Born in Richmond on August 10, 1897, Melvin was youngest son of Maggie Lena and Armstead Walker, Jr.

He graduated from the Richmond Public Schools in June 1910<sup>25</sup> and Shaw University in May 1916.<sup>26</sup> At Shaw, he was a member of the Omega Psi Phi fraternity.<sup>27</sup> Like his older brother, Melvin also completed coursework in accounting at the LaSalle Extension University from 1919-1921.<sup>28</sup>

Melvin worked in the general offices of the Independent Order of St. Luke and as a clerk in the St. Luke Penny Savings Bank.

Melvin married a woman named Ethel Robinson. The couple had three children, Armstead III, Mamie Evelyn and Elizabeth Mitchell.

He died in December 1935.

ETHEL R. WALKER (1900-1983)

Born March 4, 1900, Ethel Robinson Walker moved into 110 ½ East Leigh Street after her marriage on March 12, 1919 to Maggie L. Walker's youngest son, Melvin. Ethel gave birth to their three children, Armstead III, Mamie Evelyn, and Elizabeth at 110 ½ East Leigh Street, but her separation from Melvin in the late 1920s prompted her and their children to move away from the Walkers and into Ethel's nearby childhood home. She attended the Baker-Armstrong Night School from 1926-1927.<sup>30</sup> Ethel married a serviceman and cook named William Chambers in 1943 and continued to reside at her ancestral home until her death on May 8, 1983. Like Maggie L. Walker, Ethel ultimately dedicated herself to helping others through a long career as a social worker. She worked for many years at the Family Services Society of Richmond – a forerunner to Family Lifeline which strives “to bring health and hope directly into the homes of Central Virginia’s most vulnerable children, families, and seniors.”

MAGGIE LAURA WALKER (1918-1986)

<sup>25</sup> Diploma, MAWA 133.

Maggie Laura was the only child born to Russell E.T. and Hattie N.F. Walker. She was born on February 16, 1918<sup>31</sup> and grew up in the Walkers' Leigh Street home.

She attended the Hartshorn Memorial College from 1924-1925, the Monroe School in 1927, the Armstrong Normal School in 1928, and the Booker Washington School from 1929-1930. From there, Maggie Laura graduated from the Armstrong High School in 1933. She then attended Virginia Union University, from which she graduated in 1937. Medical school followed, and she graduated from the University of Michigan in 1941.<sup>32</sup>

Maggie Laura married Dr. John William Lewis in December of 1942. The couple had two children, John William Lewis, Jr. (born February 15, 1946<sup>33</sup>) and Harriet Walker Lewis.

Maggie Laura was an intern at the Provident Hospital of the University of Chicago. Following residency, she practiced pediatrics in Chicago, Illinois, and remained a pediatrician on staff at the Provident Hospital. During World War II, Maggie Laura moved to Birmingham, Alabama, where she was a pediatrician in Jefferson County and the Chief Medical Officer for the Rapid Treatment Center for Control of Venereal Disease for the United States Public Health Service.

On July 15, 1979 Dr. Maggie Laura Walker Lewis transferred the deed of the Walker home to the National Park Service.

ARMSTEAD WALKER III (1919-1986)

Born September 24, 1919 Armstead was the first child born to Melvin and Ethel Walker. Died February 18, 1986 in Powhattan County, VA.

MAMIE E. WALKER (1922-2004)

Mamie Evelyn was the second of three children born to Melvin and Ethel Walker. Named after her mother's twin sister, Mamie Evelyn was born at 110 ½ East Leigh Street on September 21, 1922. She attended Armstrong Normal Elementary School<sup>35</sup> and later earned a Bachelor of Music degree from Howard University in June 1944. That same month and year, she married a serviceman and fellow Howard classmate, St. Elmo Crawford, at her mother's home. The couple settled in Washington, D.C. where St.

Elmo worked as a dentist. Mamie Evelyn earned a Master of Education from New York University in 1946 and became an educator and activist for social justice. In her later years, Mamie Evelyn traveled regularly between Washington and Richmond to support educational programs related to the history of Maggie L. Walker. She died January 5, 2004 and is buried alongside her husband at Arlington National Cemetery.

POLLY PAYNE (CA. 1890-1967)

Margaret Anderson is believed to have joined the Walker family soon after she was born and remained with them all her life. Though her exact lineage is unknown, she appears to have been a distant relative through Maggie's husband, Armstead Walker, Jr. With Maggie Walker's relentless schedule, she needed a responsible house servant to oversee the domestic responsibilities for the ever-expanding family. Walker found that person in Polly, whom she employed to oversee the family's cooking, cleaning, shopping, and laundry needs. She and her husband, Maurice Payne, shared a first-floor bedroom for several years until Maurice's death in 1925 at which point Polly moved upstairs. The love and care she showed to Maggie L. Walker for many years was both recognized by and passed along to the rest of the family who embraced Polly as one of their own. In Walker's final years, it was Polly who served as her devoted nurse and assistant. Following Mrs. Walker's death, Polly continued to live at 110 ½ East Leigh Street with Hattie and Maggie Laura, deepening their bond. Polly passed away on March 2, 1967 in Chicago, while living with Maggie Laura, and is interred at Richmond's Evergreen Cemetery in the Walker family plot.

ELIZABETH WALKER (1924-2015)

Though the Walker Family Papers do not include papers from Elizabeth Walker, it is important to note her as she, like her siblings and cousin, spent her early years in the Walker's Leigh Street home, and she appears as a subject in several family portraits in the Photograph subseries of this collection. Elizabeth was born September 25, 1924, the youngest and final child of Melvin and Ethel Walker. Just before completing her degree at Virginia State College in 1945, Elizabeth married fellow classmate John Mickens and, like her older sister, settled in Washington, D.C. She later married Cpl. Carl Randolph and returned to Richmond where she worked as an employee for the Department of Parks and Recreation. In that capacity, Elizabeth looked out for the less fortunate in her community, a trait her mother claimed Elizabeth inherited from Maggie L. Walker. The vivid recollections of Elizabeth and her siblings about growing up at 110 ½ East Leigh Street and the home itself have played a major role in the National Park Service's efforts to restore and interpret the home to the public. She passed away in Richmond on February 16, 2015.

APPENDIX A:

INDEX BY ARCHIVES NUMBER

In the 1980s, Maggie Lena Walker National Historic Site staff inventoried all of the site's archival collections in a handwritten list. Each item or group of items was assigned an inventory number and labeled as such. The archival holdings were not arranged in any way, and they seem to have been inventoried in a somewhat random order. The list was updated as part of the 2016 cataloging project. See Appendix B. Photographs for the photos' archival numbers.
